A Mother's Day Tribute

that spirit of love, have become a family tradition.

Granddaughters Bobbi Andrews Morgan and Betty Andrews Eike (pictured to the left with their mother, Mamie Andrews McClenny) fondly remember the grandmother who helped take care of them when they lost their father at an early age.

Resident Spotlight

Heaps O' Love

 Grandmother Essie was a resident at Holly Manor, as was her daughter, Hilda Hubbard Mahan. Another daughter, Chesta Hubbard Morrissette, resided at Brookview.

Mother Mamie McClenny was one of the first residents in the new section of The Courts, and later, one of the first residents at the new Moore Center. She is currently a resident at The Watson Center. Her daughters call her Honey, "because that's what Dad always called her," says Betty Eike.

Bobbi and Betty can be seen daily at The Woodland, continuing the tradition of love as they help take care of their mother.

Mr. John Varner

The Woodland honored Mr. John Varner at the Annual Stockholders' Dinner.

Mr. Varner, who recently retired as Chairman of the Board of Directors, had a key role in developing what was previously the Southside Community Nursing Home, Inc., now The Woodland.

Mr. Varner was instrumental in the growth of the company and the expansion of its services.

At the dinner, Greg Cole, President and CEO, expressed his appreciation for the way Mr. Varner took him under his wing and helped him to develop his vision for The Woodland.

Mr. Varner said, "When I first envisioned a nursing home, I had no idea that it would expand to its present scope." I am satisfied that it has served the community so well and has become its fourth largest employer.

Mr. Varner currently resides at Brookview Lodge.
